Bent out. The Ashland Ease-Ball Club came up last Monday to play against our home nine. The game was advertised to take place at the rair grounds, and quite a large crowd went cut expecting to enjoy an interesting contest between the two clubs. Each side had an umpire, and after the Fredericksburg nine, who had the first inning, had scored nine runs and the Ashland boys came to the bat, the two umpires locked horns on some question, and each being sustained by his ide the game came to an end in great confusion and dissatisfaction. The result, as announced, was: Fredericksburgs, 9; Ash-

Lexington, Va., Sept 10.—"Chick-a-gorunk-go-runk-go-ree, Washington and Lee—tiger!" yelled in a voice that would make a deaf man grateful for his deafness, informs us that Lexington has awaked from her slumber of two months by the return of the students and cadets. The citizens, also, are rapidly returning, and society is taking on its wonted bright aspect. At Washington and Lee I notice many of the old leaders on hand, as eager as ever for a german or hop. This is likewise the case at the institute, with the addition of many very promising freshmen, who, however, will have to keep their wings folded for a year. The fair-sex "positively won't encourage a freshmen"

I hear much talk of visiting young ladies. In October several well-known Lynchburg beauties will grace the hops with their presence. In September Miss Mamie Dyer, of New Orleans, chaperoned by Mrs. Dabbs, of Staunton, will come. In the same month Miss Courtney, of Richmond, will visit Miss Annie White. So it is the what is to be and not the present that pleases the young gallants. gallants

At present, however, with a little effort a nice german can be gotten up. This was the case Monday evening. The young men gave a complimentary german to Miss Ellen Blair, of Richmond. It was well attended, and proved a success, although the band had not returned cess, although the band had not returned from the springs.
